

Q&A session

Open Public Consultation on new product priorities for Ecodesign for Sustainable Products

Online information session

10.03.2023

General I:

- 1. When can we expect adoption of the first rules under ESPR?
- 2. Can you give more information on the horizontal measures?
How will these work in practice once adopted?
- 3. Will the product rules set under ESPR also apply to products being exported? (i.e. produced in the EU but not placed on the EU market)
- 4. Will ESPR rules cover product design only, or industrial production processes too?

General II:

5. At what level will rules be set? i.e. How “granular” will they be?
6. Why are other groups of products (e.g. construction material; packaging) not included in the current prioritization process?
7. What were the reasons for listing chemicals under the “intermediate product” category?
8. How will transparency of the rule-making process be ensured?

On energy-related products:

9. Why are energy-related products not included in the current consultation/background study and

10. How will their prioritization be addressed and by which methodology?

11. Will the “horizontal measures” cover energy-related products too?

12. How will this interact with the Ecodesign & Energy Labelling Working Plan 2022-24?

On end-use/intermediate products:

13. What is meant by 'end-use' product?

14. Why have materials been included in the prioritization process for ESPR (i.e. under "intermediate products")?

15. How does the Commission plan to regulate both products and materials at the same time under the ESPR, and how will e.g. risk of duplication be avoided?

16. What about raw materials such as e.g. lithium – could they be seen as intermediate products?

Thank you
